Optional Sponsor Marketing Ideas

The following ideas were compiled as a result of successful OMG Technical Meetings and Technical Workshops. These items are not included in the sponsor fee and are the responsibility of the sponsor. Payment is required by the sponsor directly to the hotel or vendor. OMG's Marketing Department is always available for logistical support and consultation. Contact Kevin Loughry, OMG's Director of Events Management, at +1-781-444 0404 or loughry@omg.org

Special Events:

- Consider taking advantage of your sponsorship by hosting plant tours at your facility, or at a customer facility.
- Use the opportunity to send a number of interested staff members to the event to network, and make use of the tutorials.
- Consider hosting a special dinner or reception for attendees. You can even host the reception off-site (computer museum, museum of flight). The OMG meeting manager can help arrange transportation for the group.
- Consider making a product announcement to a captive audience of qualified attendees -- many of whom have purchasing authority or make strategic decisions. This might be done at a plenary or at an evening reception.
- Arrange a Hospitality Suite to entertain customers or negotiate business arrangements. Using our buying power with the hotel, OMG staff can help you obtain attractive rates for Hospitality Suites.
- Raffles and Giveaways are effective ways to ensure your event and your sponsorship is well-remembered. OMG would be happy to include contributed items as part of a raffle, or silent auction.
- Attendees always enjoy receiving "giveaways" such as T-shirts, mugs, note pads, key chains, umbrellas, etc. OMG registration staff would be pleased to distribute these materials on-site on the sponsor(s)' behalf.

Enhanced Visibility:

- Be sure to supply the OMG Director of Events Management with podium signs, banners for the reception area and prominent traffic areas.
- Press Releases are an excellent way to call attention to your work, your expertise and lend additional credibility to your sponsorship. Be sure to mention any speakers, topics, or special events planned. OMG would be happy to contribute an executive quote(s) for sponsor press releases.
- Remember to have your Public Relations department contact the OMG Marketing Team to be sure the press has access to your key executives or press reps from sponsoring organizations. There is often trade press coverage of OMG events, and editors will be directed to your Public Relations team for comments and input.
